

Dear Fr. Croell,

I have been going through the Catholic Blog Directory and providing Catholics with a short statement of reasons to believe in Jesus that are over looked or not understood by many Christians. I thought this was non-controversial and everyone would agree with me.

On June 26, 2015, at 9:37 PM you emailed me back at peter.steiner@verizon.net and suggested I read carefully a website about evolution. What does my statement, which I have attached, have to do with evolution?

This is strange because I am in a conflict with Fr. Austriaco about evolution and he is a member of the team that created the website. On Sept. 19, 2013, I had a meeting with Fr. Brian Mulcahy and accused Fr. Austriaco of being dishonest. Fr. Mulcahy promised to ask about Fr. Austriaco about this, but I have no idea what transpired between these two. I tell about this meeting at <http://www.pseudoscience123.com>. I have also brought this matter to the attention the Pope in the cover letter for my canonical complaint against Cardinal Dolan for suppressing my slideshow about the Shroud of Turin. (<http://www.holyshroud.info> and <http://www.dkroemer.com>).

I'd be more than happy to come to Washington DC to discuss these matters with you.

Very truly yours,
David Roemer
347-417-4703